MONDAY, JUNE 13, 1768.

CHARLES-TOWN, Printed at PETER TIMOTHY'S (the OLDEST) Office, in BROAD-STREET.

Mr. TIMOTHY,

I HAVE devoted a good deal of time, and taken no small pains, to be of service to the PLANTERS of this province and Georgia, by inventing and (I think) perfecting, a MACHINE for the more easy and well cleaning of RICE; but like other Projectors, not finding myself (at present) in circumstances to erect the said Machine in large, and being convinced that, upon trial, it will fully answer the purpose for which it was intended, I must beg the favour of the use of your Press, to lay before the public the following DIRECTIONS, for making and erecting the same; which I have drawn up in so plain and simple a manner, as I hope, will be easily understood, and induce gentlemen that can afford it, to give my invention a fair chance, and make trial of it; and I would desire you to do it as soon as possible, that the season may not be lost to procure the proper timber, &c. in time.

If the DRAUGHT cannot be engraved here, and published at the same time with the directions, keep That in your hands, to be inspected and copied by such as may want it.

Erect an horizontal wheel, of 12 feet diameter to the extremity of the spurs or cogs. Fix to the said wheel an upright axis not less than 11 feet in height; and therein a lever 10 feet 8 inches long, for a horse to draw by. If you fix one more lever to the same axis, opposite to the other, then two horses may draw.

Let the above take another wheel, with cogs or rounds set thro' its plane, of 9 diameter to the extremity of said cogs or rounds. This I call the center-wheel; and must take or turn a third wheel, with cogs or rounds also set thro' its plane, of 6 feet diameter to the extremity of its cogs or rounds, to be set up perpendicular, with an axis and lifts, which I call an axis in peritruchio.

The axis in peritruchio to have 4 rows of lifts, set in a serpentine manner, containing 8 or 12 lifts in a row, more or less, as the owner may choose or think fit, with a set of pestles and mortars to correspond.

The great wheel going 3 times and $\frac{1}{2}$ round, the center-wheel will go 5 times, and the axis in peritruchio 7 times and $\frac{1}{2}$; and this axis having 4 rows of lifts, will cause each pestle to give 30 strokes in each mortar per minute.

The OPERATION by Figures.

The lever the horse draws by being 10 feet 8 inches long, say

Feet	Inches
10	8	semidiameter of the horses track,
21	4	diameter of ditto,

$3 \times \frac{1}{2}$		round to beat 30 strokes.

102
32 its $\frac{1}{2}$
16 its $\frac{1}{4}$

240 feet the horse goes, to perform the 30 strokes at the rate of 4 feet per " of a minute.

It is well known, from practice, that when a Machine is moved by a horse, he ought to go at the rate of 4 feet per " of time, and then you have the best performance.

Now 240 feet divided by 4×240

60 " or one minute.

And by the principles of Mechanicks, my lever being 10 feet 8 inches, or 128 inches, and the semidiameter of the great wheel 6 feet from the center, or 72 inches,

Say 128:72::400lb. (supposing four pestles always bearing, and each to weigh 100lb.) to 225 lb. the draught of the horses to overcome, the supposition of each pestle to weigh 100lb. will hardly be the case.

OPERATION.

A horse going 4 feet per " is at the rate of 2 miles and almost $\frac{1}{2}$ per hour, allowing 5280 feet for 1 statute mile, as is the case with us.

If the Machine should be made as large as above proposed, and some contrivance be added to suit the purpose, it will grind and beat the Rice at the same time. But if the above dimensions are thought too large and expensive, the great wheel may be reduced to the dimensions of the peritruchio, as may the center-wheel, in which case the levers the horses draw by need be only 5 feet 4 inches long; but then the horses must go 7 times and $\frac{1}{2}$ round the track, and the operation of the horses and machine will be the same as above, viz. 30 strokes per minute, and the horses still carry the same burden and go at the rate of 2 miles and almost $\frac{1}{2}$ per hour.

The wheels being only 6 feet diameter, and the lever 5 feet 4 inches long, will make the expence less, and the dimensions of the covering much less, nay, the least that can be invented (I presume) and also the cheapest.

The dimensions of the building, 16 feet by 45, allowing largely, if your wheels are but 6 feet diameter: But if the wheels are as here proposed, then the building should be 25 by 45. I am

Your and the Public's

Most humble Servant,

BOSTON, March 28.

At an adjournment of the meeting of the freeholders and other inhabitants of this town, the following letter was reported by the committee appointed for that purpose, viz.

To the ingenious AUTHOR of certain patriotic letters, subscribed A FARMER.

MUCH RESPECTED SIR!

WHEN the rights and liberties of the numerous and loyal inhabitants of this extensive continent are in imminent danger when the inveterate enemies of these colonies are not more assiduous to forge fetters for them, than diligent to delude the people, and zealous to persuade them to an indolent acquiescence: At this alarming period, when to resist is deemed a revolt, and to oppose such measures as are judicious and destructive, is construed as a formal attempt to subvert order and government; when to reason is to rebel; and a ready submission to the rod of power, is solicited by the tenders of place and patronage, urged by the menace of danger and disgrace: 'Tis to YOU, worthy SIR! that AMERICA is obliged, for a most reasonable, sensible, loyal and vigorous vindication of her invaded rights and liberties: 'Tis to YOU, the distinguished honour is due; that when many of the friends of liberty were ready to fear its utter subversion, armed with truth, supported by the immutable laws of nature, the common inheritance of man, and leaning on the pillars of the BRITISH constitution; you seasonably bro't your aid, opposed impending ruin, awakened the most indolent and inactive to a sense of danger, re-animating the hopes of those, who had before exerted themselves in the cause of freedom, and instructed AMERICA in the best means to obtain redress.

Nor is this western world alone indebted to your wisdom, fortitude and patriotism; GREAT-BRITAIN also may be confirmed by you, that to be truly great and successful she must be just: That to oppress AMERICA is to violate her own honours, defeat her brightest prospects, and contract her spreading empire.

To such eminent worth and virtue, the inhabitants of the town of BOSTON, the capital of the province of the MASSACHUSETTS BAY: in full town-meeting assembled, express their earliest gratitude: actuated themselves by the same generous principles, which appear with so much lustre in your useful labours, they will not fail warmly to recommend, and industriously to promote that union among the several colonies, which is so indispensably necessary for the security of the whole.

Tho' such superior merit must assuredly, in the closest recess, enjoy the divine satisfaction of having served, and possibly saved this people; tho' veiled from our view, you modestly shun the deserved applause of millions; permit us to intrude upon your retirement, and salute the FARMER, as the FRIEND of AMERICANS, and the common benefactor of mankind.

The above letter was read, and unanimously accepted by the town, and ordered to be published in the several newspapers.

Attest. WILLIAM COOPER, Town-Clerk.

From the BOSTON GAZETTE, April 18.

To the PRINTERS:

GENTLEMEN,
YOU are desired to publish the enclosed. Yours,
A FARMER.

GENTLEMEN,

IT is impossible for me to express the reverential gratitude, with which I receive the very great honour, you have been pleased to confer upon me by your late letter.

The rank of the town of Boston, the wisdom of her counsels, and the spirit of her conduct, render, in my opinion, the approbation of her inhabitants, ineffable; and therefore I shall ever place this testimony of it, among the chief blessings of my life.

Love of my country engaged me in that attempt, to vindicate her rights, and assert her interests, which your generosity has thought proper to highly applaud; and if my humble labours prove useful to the good people of these colonies—A glory beyond which my ambition never wished to rise—I am persuaded that this happy effect must flow from the assistance and lustre bestowed upon them by your favourable notice.

Never, till my heart becomes insensible of all worldly things, will it become insensible of the unspeakable obligations, which as an American I owe to the inhabitants of the province of Massachusetts Bay, for the vigilance with which they have watched over, and the magnanimity with which they have maintained the liberties of the British colonies on this continent.

May the same sacred zeal for the common welfare, the same principles of loyalty to our excellent Sovereign, of affection to his illustrious house, and of duty to our beloved parent kingdom, which have uniformly actuated and guided your colony, animate and direct every other, so that at length that union of sentiments and measures may be firmly formed, which as you, gentlemen, most justly observe, "is so indispensably necessary for the security of the whole."

Amongst my warmest wishes there will ever be—that the province of Massachusetts Bay may rejoice in a perpetual prosperity; that the town of Boston may always flourish with a dignity becoming the capital of so very respectable a state; that the purity of her intentions, the prudence of her designs, and the vigour of her actions, may constantly confound the machinations of her enemies; that the virtues of her present inhabitants may be transmitted down from age to age, that so the latest posterity in these colonies, may never want faithful guardians of American freedom.

NEW-LONDON (in Connecticut) April 15.

A Letter from the Merchants of the town of Norwich, to the ingenious Author of certain patriotic Letters, subscribed A FARMER.

MUCH RESPECTED SIR,

FROM an anxious concern for the happiness of our country, glowing with the warmest affections of a grateful heart, the Merchants of the town of Norwich, beg leave to address you, and deposite this testimony of their friendship for so wise and so virtuous a benefactor.

When death seemed so ready as to leave us but a fearful hope of safety, your kind work revived our drooping spirits, and, we may say it with the voice of all, SAVED a sinking land.

The justness of your thoughts, the plainness and energy of your style, animated by the noble, the exalted spirit which breathes through the whole of your letters, all join to make us admire the greatness of your mind, whilst we extol the unbounded goodness of your heart.

POSTERITY, who must reap the fruits of your toil in the fields of freedom, will raise in every bosom an altar to your memory: The numerous herd; the bending harvest; the busy street; the swelling sail; the peaceful shade; the social fire-side; and all the various pleasures of the year, shall hand thy name to ages yet unborn.

Forgive us, dear Sir, if we intreat you still to bless us with your watchful care; and O! may you live, LONG LIVE, —that future infancy may be taught by thee.

At a Meeting of the Freemen of the town of Lebanon, in this colony, April 11, 1768, the following Letter was reported, viz.

To the ingenious Author of the Letters, subscribed A FARMER.

SIR,

THE Freemen of this Town, intersted in, and sensibly affected with the calamity and distress to which they, in common with their American brethren, are, and must be subject, by the operation and consequences of several acts of the British parliament, imposing various duties, &c. whereby their property is to be taken from them, and applied without their consent, FOR THE EXPRESS PURPOSE OF RAISING A REVENUE TO THE CROWN, have seen, with sensible pleasure, your generous efforts in the glorious cause of endangered liberty; wherein, with clear knowledge, and solid argument, you have vindicated the rights of America, demonstrated that any attempt to deprive her of them, are inconsistent with the genuine spirit of the British constitution, and equally impolitic and injurious; wherein, with PENETRATING SAGACITY, and CERTAIN PRESCIENCE, you have warned her of the infinite danger of an indolent acquiescence in principles which extended to their genuine length, will end in the total subversion of her constitutional freedom, and an utter alienation of those kind affections, which, but for hard and unequal measures, would last for ever, equally strong, and mutually beneficial to this and the mother country; with just and persuasive eloquence have you strengthened the hands, and encouraged the further needful exertions of the generous multitude, engaged in that noble cause, asserted its righteousness, and pointed out the best, and, we trust, sure means of obtaining redress, while justice and candor are partners of the British Throne; but whether they succeed or not, your excellent and judicious letters exhibit the true interest, and only remaining policy of these colonies, to so clear and conspicuous a view, that they cannot fail to reap important advantage from your prudent and wise instructions.

Permit us, therefore, respectful Sir, amidst applauding millions, to pay you the small tribute of our warmest thanks for your generous and truly patriotic labours, to penetrate the veil of your modest retirement, and congratulate you as ONE BORN FOR THE MOST NOBLE AND EXALTED PURPOSE, and as having erected a monument which will last when those of marble and glass are mouldered to dust, and transmit a grateful remembrance of the FARMER to latest posterity.

THE foregoing Letter was UNANIMOUSLY accepted by the Freemen of said town, and ordered to be published.

Attest W. WILLIAMS, Town Clerk.

Extract of a letter from London, March 1.

"Lord Temple, Mr. Grenville, &c. &c. that is the whole party that have been so long united in the opposition, are now certainly to come in play again.—Anti-Sejanus (the Revd. Mr. Scott) that celebrated adherent of Lord Sandwich, is expected in town tomorrow, as his brother has just informed me, no doubt to support their measures in the News Papers, as he did before under that signature.

"The following changes will certainly take place, Earl Temple to be Prime Minister, and first Lord of the treasury, 4000l. a year in the room of the Duke of Grafton, Lord Privy Seal 3000l. in room of Earl Chatham who retires on his pension 3000l.

"George Grenville, Esq. Secretary of state in the room of the Earl of Shelburne, whose salary with lawful perquisites is worth 3000l.

"Earl of Sandwich first Lord of the Admiralty 3000l. instead of Sir Edward Hawke to be created a Peer, and retire on his pension 2000l. a year.

"Sir George McCartney son in law to Lord Bute, to be made an Irish Peer, and joint Postmaster 2000l.

"Lord Cathcart, Ambassador to Russia 10000l.

"Lord Holland, Cofferer to the Household 500l.

"Lord Mount Stuart, Envoy to Turin.

"Richard Rigby, Esq. sole Paymaster, the most lucrative office in the administration, in the room of George Cook, Esquire.

Extract of another Letter from London, March 1.

"The change of ministry that has just happened in not looked upon as a favourable omen for America; your friends and well-wishers are under very great anxiety; as all the officers from the highest to the lowest, are filled with those who voted and protested against the repeal of the stamp act.

"The following Lords who are just come in, in particular signed the protest, Duke of Bedford, Duke of Marlborough, Earl Temple, Earls of Gower, Sandwich, Halifax, Eglinton, Suffolk and Coventry, Viscount Weymouth, Viscount Townshend, Lord Lyttelton.

"Voted against it, Duke of Northumberland, Earl of Bute, Earls of Denbigh, Hillsborough, and Litchfield, Lord Mansfield, Lord Cathcart.

"It is also affirmed here, that Lord Bute has the supreme direction.—George Grenville, Esq. is likewise in office.

"An account of the whale fins and oil imported here from America, from Christmas 1765, to Michaelmas, 1767, is just laid before the House of Commons.

"The parliament have resolved, that seventy thousand pounds sterl. of the duties, to be raised in America, from February 2d, 1768, to 5th of April, 1769, shall be applied towards the defending, protecting, and securing the British colonies in America.

"The parliament have now before them, copies of letters from every Governor on the continent, and also a state of the manufactures of some of the colonies."

We hear that three regiments are expected at Nova-Scotia, which with the two already there are to be stationed in this province; also five regiments are to be stationed at Georgia.

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.

Extract of a Letter from London, February 13, 1768.

"The administration is now likely to remain settled for some considerable time.—The Duke of Grafton is the cement of the whole; and tho' he hath neither many family connections, nor what is still more necessary to one in his station, many parliamentary ones, he possesses much of the public esteem and confidence; and all acquiesce in his continuing to take the lead, which is somewhat singular, as he is yet a very good man.

"Immense sums are daily given to secure seats in parliament, and it is reckoned, that not fewer than 30 or 40 Nabobs will get into the house this ensuing election.—Men who, in the East, by rapine and plunder, in most cases attended with the most shocking instances of barbarity, have suddenly acquired immense wealth. Such you will, perhaps, think not the most proper guardians of our constitution and liberties.

"The bill for continuing the restraint of East India dividends to 10 per cent. for one year longer, is now past both houses, tho' not without opposition. Mr. D—d—sw—ll, in the Commons, proposed, with a view to protract the matter, to refer the examination of the Company's affairs to a select committee; but Lord N—th shewed so clearly the expediency of the bill, and the absurdity of appealing to a committee, in a point wherein the house itself had already decided, that the motion was dropt without a division. Indeed every disinterested honest man must see the propriety of this restraint; especially those who know and consider the precarious tenor upon which they hold their territorial revenues, which are collected by a method that varies very little from military execution, and in which service our army there are employed in the field near nine months in the year. Add to this, the difficulty of investing these revenues (for they cannot be remitted in specie) and of converting their commodities into money, when the European markets are so glutted.—Lord Clive hath of late been extremely ill, and set out about three weeks ago for Nice, as the only chance he has of prolonging his life.

"Last Monday I heard lord North open the Budget, which he did to the general satisfaction. It is needless to give the particulars; but there are to be no new taxes this year. We lessen the national debt a trifle, and borrow, by a loan, and a lottery, £1,900,000 at three per cent. to pay off the remainder of the unfunded four per cents. He assured us that we were, in general, in a very prosperous condition; that the present peace was like to be lasting; but that if, contrary to all expectation, a fresh war should break out, care should be taken to put the state in the best condition possible, to exert ourselves with glory in the prosecution of it. Mr. Grenville, as usual, endeavoured to find fault, but to no purpose. His speech was unanimated and confused, and was plainly dictated by discontent and disappointment, though he affected to say, he reckoned it an honour to be out of place. An honour, however, I dare say, he would with very soon to be stripped of. In all his speeches, he never fails to bring in North-America: in this he observed, that after all the expense we have incurred during the late war, in ridding them of their enemies the French, the protection of the conquests we had made there, cost us annually £500,000, a sum which, in our exhausted state, with such a load of debt, we were, by no means, able to bear.

"I see the commotions in Boston, and other places, are not yet wholly subdued; and that some over zealous

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.
Excerpt of a letter from London, March 15, 1838.
 "The parliament was dissolved yesterday, and every body is now engaged in electioneering, both in town and country.—Wukes is returned once more, and having obtained his pardon, as they say, and I am apt to believe, by the interests of the duke of N—buried, that he might not interfere with his son Lord P—ry's election for Westminster, is now a candidate for the city of London; and the cry of Peace and Liberty, is beginning to be reschoed in our streets. I cannot think he will by any means succeed; yet it is impossible to say what the majority of the lively-men may accomplish.
 "Buting the unavoidable bustle, occasioned by the election, we are in a state of perfect tranquillity. No talk of the least change in the ministry, or any material alteration of any kind, or in any department whatever. Lord Chatham remains in Sensu quo.
 "The King's speech you see, is a very good one. I heard Nim deliver it, which he did, as he always does, with great propriety. He is much, and deservedly beloved; for surely there is not an honest or better natured man in his dominions; and if some factious spirits do not interfere, I have no doubt but every thing will go on very smoothly. The great object is, the reduction of the public debt, and the encouragement of every branch of commerce, upon which the national credit wholly depends. I think things seem also to be somewhat composed in America. I cannot say what people, who take a partial view of either side the Atlantic, may imagine; but this I am certain of, that our prosperity and security depend upon our union, our firm and lasting union, Ist who will say to the contrary.
 "Before next Packet sails, the election will be mostly over. Much money will be expended, much riot will prevail; but there is no help for it. It is in some measure, the unavoidable consequence of our liberty, which will every now and then run into licentiousness.—But still, take us for all in all, we are the happiest nation this world ever contained: And I trust in providence, that tho' our public affairs may now and then wear an unpromising aspect, and unworthy men may sometimes force themselves into power, yet I hope, before matters come to extremity, the nation will come to their senses, and not suffer a fabrick, the work of ages, and the envy of the rest of the world, to be materially injured.—In this hope, I, for my own part, remain, and am very happy."

I seems hardly probable that the disturbances in our Back Settlements will entirely subside, notwithstanding all the prudent steps that have been or can be taken by the Government to suppress them, until the late act of the General Assembly of this province for establishing Circuit Courts takes place; for we daily hear of new irregularities committed by the people called Regulators, who, seeming to despair of rooting out those gangs of desperate villains that remain among them any other way, still take upon themselves to punish such offenders as they can catch — We hear, that within this month, one Watts and one Dikoe, have received 500 lashes each, by their direction; and that an infamous woman has also received corporal punishment. — We hear also, that one John Bowles has lately lost his life in attempting to take Mr. Woodward, one of the leaders of the people called Regulators: According to our account Woodward refusing to surrender himself, Bowles fired at and would have killed him, but the ball struck the barrel of a gun which he held across his breast upon which some people in company with Woodward fired, and killed Bowles on the spot.

Besides the passengers mentioned in our last, gone in different vessels, Mrs. Susannah Pinfold went in Captain Coombes's ship for London; the Rev. Mr. Potter, and the Rev. Mr. Lattimer, in Capt. Mason for Philadelphia; and Mr. Edward Webley, in Capt. Bachop, for St. Augustine; Colonel Henry Laurens in Captain Brown, for Georgia.

PHILADELPHIA, MAY 22.

On Tuesday last, by order of the GOVERNOR and SOCIETY of Fort St. David, fourteen gentlemen members of that company, waited upon John Dickinson, Esq; and presented the following address in a box of HEART OF OAK.

RESPECTED SIR,
WHEN a man of abilities, prompted by love of his country, exerts them in her cause, and renders her the most eminent services, not to be sensible of the benefits received, is STUPIDITY; not to be grateful for them, is BASENESS.

Influenced by this sentiment, we, the Governor and Company of Fort St. David, who, among other inhabitants of British America, are indebted to you for your most excellent and generous vindication of liberties dearer to us than our lives, beg leave to return you our heartiest thanks, and to offer you the greatest mark of esteem, that, as a body, it is in our power to bestow, by admitting you, as we hereby do, a member of our society.

When that destructive project of taxation, which your integrity and knowledge so signally contributed to baffle about two years ago, was lately renewed under a disguise, so artfully contrived as to delude millions. YOU, Sir, watchful for the interests of your country, perfectly acquainted with them, and unswerving in asserting them, ALONE detected the monster concealed from others by an altered appearance, exposed it, stripped of its indolent covering, in its own horrid shape, and, we firmly trust, by the blessing of GOD on your wisdom and virtue, will again extricate the British colonies on this continent from the cruel snare of oppression; for we already perceive these colonies, roused by your strong and reasonable call, pursuing the salutary measures advised by you for obtaining redress.

Nor is this all that you have performed for your native land, America. By a sacred trust, guided by truth, and supported by justice, you have regenerated to the FOUNDATIONS OF THE CONSTITUTION, have poured the clearest light on the most important points, hitherto involved in a darkness bewildering even the learned, and have established, with an amazing force, and pliancy of argument, the TRUE DISTINCTIONS and GRAND PRINCIPLES, that will fully instruct ages yet unborn, what rights belong to them, and the best methods of defending them.

To merit far less distinguished, ancient Greece or Rome would have decreed statues and honours without number. But it is your fortune and your glory, Sir, that you live in such times, and possess such exalted worth, that the ENVY of those, whose DUTY it is to applaud you, can receive no other consolation, than by withholding those praises in public, which all honest men acknowledge in private that you have deserved.

We present to you, Sir, a small gift of society not dignified by any legal authority: But when you consider this gift as expressive of the sincere affection of many of your fellow citizens for your person, and of their unlimited approbation of the noble principles maintained in your unequalled labours, we hope this testimony of our sentiments will be acceptable to you.

May that all-gracious being, which in kindness to these colonies gave your valuable life existence at the critical period when it would be most wanted, grant it a long continuance, filled with every felicity; and when your country sustains its dreadful loss, may you enjoy the happiness of heaven, and on earth may your memory be cherished, as we doubt not it will be, to the latest posterity.

Signed, by order of the Society,
JOHN HARVARD, Secretary.

The box was finely decorated, and the inscriptions, neatly done in letters of gold. On the top was represented the CAP OF LIBERTY on a spear, resting on a cypher of the letters J. D. Underneath the cypher, in a semicircular label, PRO PATRIA. Around the whole the following words—

THE GIFT OF THE GOVERNOR AND SOCIETY OF FORT ST. DAVID, TO THE AUTHOR OF THE FARMER'S LETTERS, IN GRATEFUL TESTIMONY OF THE VERY EMINENT SERVICES FREELY RENDERED TO THIS COUNTRY. 1768.

On the inside of the top—

THE LIBERTIES OF
THE BRITISH COLONIES IN AMERICA
ASSERTED,
WITH ATTIC ELOQUENCE,
AND ROMAN SPIRIT, BY

J—N—D—K—N—S—N, Esq;
BARRISTER AT LAW.

On the inside of the bottom—

ITA QUIBUS EVENIAT,
UT DE REPUBLICA MERUIT.

On the outside of the bottom—A sketch of Fort St. David.
The name at length.

To which the following Answer was returned.

GENTLEMEN,
I VERY gratefully receive the favour you have been pleased to bestow upon me, in admitting me a member of your company; and I return you my heartiest thanks for your kindness.

The "esteem" of worthy fellow citizens is a treasure of the greatest price; and as no man can more highly value it than I do, your society in "expressing the affection" of so many respectable persons for me, affords me the sincerest pleasure.

Nor will this pleasure be lessened by reflecting, that you may have regarded with a generous partiality my attempts to promote the welfare of our country; for the warmth of your praise in commending a conduct you suppose to deserve them, gives worth to these praises, by proving your merit, while you attribute merit to another.

Your characters, gentlemen, did not need this evidence to convince me, how much I ought to prize your "esteem," or how much you deserved mine.

I think myself extremely fortunate, in having obtained your favourable opinion, which I shall constantly and carefully endeavour to preserve.

I most heartily wish you every kind of happiness, and particularly that you may enjoy the comfortable prospect of transmitting to your posterity those "liberties dearer to you than your lives," which GOD gave to you, and which as inferior power has a right to take away.
